

ROOM 3:
During reading with Mrs Simmonds, Fynn and Syesha have learnt how to follow instructions and make their own soft toy. Aren't they clever students !!

The Shark!

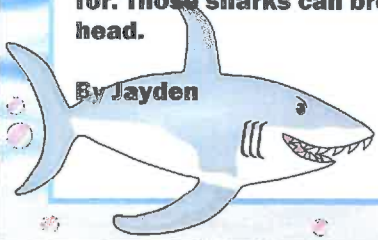

Sharks are different colours. Sharks have razor sharp, pure white teeth. The Hammerhead Shark can weigh over 1000kg. Sharks can kill you very badly.

I was in my shiny, red, metal boat when there was a huge splash. It wobbled the boat. The boat wobbled again and it nearly tipped over. The shark couldn't get me because I was in the shallow part. I went back out fishing and I caught 5 sharks and 10 Snapper.

Sharks are the second fastest fish. They can leap out of the water very fast. Hammerhead sharks are the sharks you need to watch out for. Those sharks can break your boat by hitting it with their big, hard head.

By Jayden

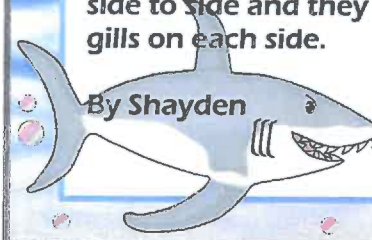

© Copyright 2012, www.sparklebox.co.uk

The Shark

Sharks can sneak up on people and jump on you. Sharks are 100 kg and sharks could squash you. I have caught two Hammerhead sharks before. There were more than two, there were ten I think. I was with my dad on my dad's little red boat. I don't think I have seen some bigger sharks than little Hammerhead sharks. Sharks live deep in the water, nearly at the bottom of the ocean. Sharks are huge fish. Sharks are super – duper fast. To make sharks move they move their tails from side to side and they use their gills to breathe. They have four gills on each side.

By Shayden

© Copyright 2012, www.sparklebox.co.uk

Shark Friends

It was a nice sunny day on the beach, not a cloud in sight, all blue. We were on our small, white metal boat in the middle of the sea when something grey popped out of the water in a triangle shape and it began to circle our white boat. I bent over the edge of the boat. I looked behind me and saw a black boulder that stood in place where some seals lay. They looked bored. I turned around and saw that grey thing was still circling us! I opened up a box of bait, threaded it on the hook and threw it at the fin of the now apparent shark. The hook slipped into its mouth and the shark was sent into a rage! I turned back around to the boulder and saw that thick red blood had coated the black boulder. The shark jetted towards me like a rocket ship.

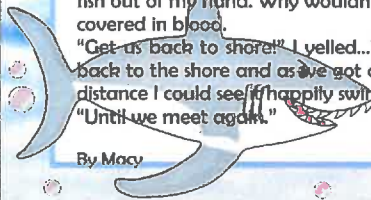

"BOOT UP THE ENGINE!!" Suddenly the boat sped but it was too late... the shark had already caught up and bit the back of the metal boat. Its mouth clung onto the back of the metal boat then the boat slowed, the shark popped out the water and opened its mouth wide. Its blood – coated lips were as red as Taylor Swift's lipstick. Its black eyes stared intensely.

"Stop the boat!" The boat paused. I didn't know how I'd get this to work but I took a Snapper out of the fish bucket and carefully put my hand out, loosely holding the snapper. Surprisingly it did not snap at me so nervously I put my hand on its grey snout and handed it the fish. It carefully took the fish out of my hand. Why wouldn't it hurt me? I put my hand onto its snout and pulled out the hook, covered in blood.

"Get us back to shore!" I yelled... "Slowly though!" Sure enough, the shark followed me call the way back to the shore and as we got off the boat it looked at me sadly and swam back out to sea. In the distance I could see it happily swimming in the exact same spot that we first saw it.

"Until we meet again."

By Macy

© Copyright 2012, www.sparklebox.co.uk

The Shark

I was on my big, blue and yellow boat fishing for a big fish. Suddenly my rod started moving. I had a fish – or so I thought. I was pulling and pulling then I saw the big fin flying through the air. I went to get my gun but where was it? Then, just at that moment the boat wobbled. I went to the back of the boat and there it was. It was coming back for another attack. Then I realised it was a Great White Shark! I saw it wanted the fish so I threw two fish at it but that wasn't it. I thought for a minute... "Hmmm" I said. The boat wobbled again but I couldn't see anything. Then I saw a hole in the boat – it was sinking! I was shooting at the shark but it was moving around the bullets. Another boat heard the gun getting fired and came to investigate. The boat was big and black. I climbed onto the boat and told the driver to go back to the beach. I never saw my boat again.

By Cooper

© Copyright 2012, www.sparklebox.co.uk